

Strange Video to Gasp of Pack 4031

By: Phil Indablang

The Wyrd strikes Pack 4031 again at their opening meeting of the season. After viewing the Summertime events slideshow, the Cubmaster played a video that mysteriously showed up on his camera while creating the slide deck. One thing is most certainly clear: the prints left the night of the August Event were most certainly DINOSAUR!

In the video, a cry from help was sent from a person in perilous situation with flashing siren lights and horrifying sounds in the background. After reviewing the video several times and piecing together what I could, the person calling for help seemed to be a man called Dr. Godrick Auvem. I spent much time researching this name and could not find much to go on. There was a Godrick Auvem in 1902 for about 6 months listed in Bern, Austria near the local patton office. It would make for a fantastic story with the backdrop of clock towers and contemporary of Einstien and Besso, but too far back for anyone to have been around at that time. Then, in 1995, there were some regular appearances of a young man with this name that had troubles staying in universities through western Europe. It seems his mind strayed too often from the criculum set forth in the programs of reptilian and avian vetreinary sciences or paleotolgy. The topic that seems to plague his early departures is researching relativty and time travel.

The most notable was in December of 1999 and his departure from the University of Greenwich in England. He had procured 6 donkeys from a near by farm and secured them to the West wall of the observation tower. As the authorities took a severly dehydrated and sleep deprived young man into custody his only statement was that he kept muttering, "I can bring them back, if only we can go in the other direction, I can bring them back."

Godrick Auvem then disappeared from a local mental hospital and there is no record of him again. No donkeys were hurt in this interchange.

Several names were mentioned through the video. Dr. Thunder who was known to be living in the Rhineland, WI area just a few short summers ago.

Dr. Thunder

From the spring until the fall, but then seems to drop out of time itself. Danny Jones was mentioned as well. There is still more research to be done on this name, but it is clear he is an adventurer who has had many encounters with animals in the wild and known to domes ticate even the most terrifying of creators. It is said that he could even tame a dragon to bring into the common household. There will be a follow up article regarding his exploits.

Then there are the familiar names. My name and the name of my trusted photographer, Specs Runner. Even the name of Pack 4031 is mentioned. Perhaps even more troubeling is the date listed on the video. August 17, 2024. Nearly the same timeframe Dr. Auvem is asking for all these people to come together. What roll will we have to play in the plot being laid before us.
